Web design northern beaches specialists, Punch Buggy Digital Agency, has announced its relocation to larger offices in the centre of Mona Vale, NSW, Australia. The move has been prompted by the company's growth in a dynamic industry and vibrant community.

Sydney, Australia (PRWEB) February 28, 2012

The creative team at Punch Buggy Digital Agency has an enviable reputation for its innovative approach to bringing businesses online. As web design northern beaches specialists, their ability to tap into this nuanced community has seen them grow dramatically, and a move to larger premises has just been announced.

“Having outgrown our previous premises, we have just moved to a larger studio and office in the centre of beautiful Mona Vale” said Punch Buggy's Ryan Fitton. “Not only does this give our team a more comfortable environment in which to work, but it is also easily accessed by our clients, should they need to visit.”

“We don't operate in the typical website design northern beaches sphere - we actually like our clients to come by for a coffee to discuss their needs” continued Mr Fitton.

That's not to say though that Punch Buggy doesn't create websites for its clients in other parts of Australia, and indeed the world.

“The internet has broken down geographical barriers to business, especial those like ours, which can deliver services electronically. We have clients all over Australia, in Canada and the UK” said Mr Fitton.

However, the Punch Buggy team has a special place in its collective heart for businesses that require a website design northern beaches focused, and for local businesses who are looking to grow by taking their products and services to the world.

Punch Buggy Service Expansion

The move to larger premises has given the Punch Buggy team the ability to offer an even greater range of services. They are design-focused, but ensure that the websites they deliver are also optimized in a way that attracts the search engines. More visibility in the search engine results means more traffic, and more business.

The company's services include:

- web design
- logo & brand design
- print design
- digital strategy
- e-commerce websites
- custom websites
- web development
